OUTRAGE IN MALAYA

More than a thousand people lost their homes in the little town of Simpang Tiga, in Perak, Malaya, when 80 bandits set fire to the township. The High Commissioner, Sir Henry

Gurney, visited the town after the burning, and the Government has promised to rebuild the town. Relief for the victims was begun immediately. Troops of the Malaya Regiment' and detachments of police now quard the town while it is being rebuilt. Photo shows a general

KMT sends soldiers back to HK

Taipeh, February 20. Nationalist authorities at the Keelung port of Talwan refused to allow the disembarkation of a shipload of Chinese passengers from Hong Kong. The passengers consisted of Nationalist soldiers and dependants, 1,015 in all,

The authorities said they had no valid permits and would therefore have to go back to Hong Kong in the same ship, the British steamer Kweiyang.

The Kweiyang was still at Keelung this afternoon waiting for a final decision from the South China command before turning back to Hong Kong. The Nationalist authorities said they have received no advance notice that she intended to bring Nationalist soldiers and depend-This, they maintained, should have been given and approval obtained before the ship set out for Talwan.

Africa, February 20. A police sergeant was killed ; yesterday and 16 persons were injured when police and natives shot it out in the latest of a spreading series of disorders. Yesterday's rioting grew out of a clash between two native factions involving about 100 persons.

A detachment of nine police fired upon by one of the groups, They had to withdraw after the sergeant was killed and a detective had part of his ear lopped off by a native battle axe.

Reinforcements were rushed to the compound and 20 natives hrrested. Riot squads carrying rifles Sten guns were posted around the area. Last Monday 100 natives attacked police and stoned cars and a railway station at the New Clara native area, also near Johannesburg.-Associated Press.

They said that the new regime is having a difficult time in trying to collect taxes in kind.

The taxes are so high that the farmers have organised themselves to oppose parties of soldiers sent out to implement the tax orders.

They added that the peasants' resistance movement is spreading throughout Kwangsi. The rice situation has become to acute at Liuchow, big railway town midway between Kweilin and Nanning, that the Communist military authorities have to import rice from Hunan to supply the population and the garrison

The farmers in the districts surrounding Liuchow have refused to bring their rice to Lluchow for more than a month.

Troops sent to the districts to collect rice taxes and to persuade the peasants to send their rice to Liuchow markets were invariably beaten back by bands of armod farmers.

That is what Rajk and Kostov, among thousands of others, found out-too late. Tito would have discovered it long ago but for some very useful mountains.

It is just this unawareness which has caused Socialism in Central and Eastern Europe to become not the surgeon but the midwife of Communism.

Socialists of the Crossman perrunsion may like it, or not, but the loss of confidence thus engendered is causing a noticeable drift toward the Right in Europe. Socialism will have to improve sternly on its past attitude toward Communism, and shed some of the embarrassing elements which cling to its garments. So far the task is shirked because it cannot do this without causing a split in the party.

This applies to Socialism everywhere, particularly in Italy and France. In Germany I mistrust Dr. Schumneher, the Socialist leader, for other reasons; but at least he is vehemently anti-Communist.

POLITICAL PARTIES' FINAL CHECK OF ELECTION CHANCES

London, February 19. The two major political parties, have been taking final stock of their Election chances this week-end, both declaring that they are confident they will be returned to power.

The majority opinion seems to be that this is still a bread-and-butter election, with austerity, rationing, prices and wages, all aspects of the dollar gap, the deciding factor.

with several colleagues he had been to the place but was refused permission to enter the he had conversations with the the workers, and from what he had seen and what he had heard from people living there, he could say that the quarters were below standard.

He said he had prepared a report, necording to which 380 wor-kers were involved. About 110 of them have families. Some of them erect huts adjoining a cow-shed, and lived among the straws. Only 70 families have proper accommodation, and of these 30 have light and water. About 20 families live on the cocklosts of cowsheds while about 10 other familles erect huts of wood and tin sheets like squatters

The two disused cow-sheds on Sassoon Road, near the Queen Mary Hospital, used as quarters, accommodate 12 families. There is no kitchen, no light and no water.

An Urban Council Inspector had been out to the Farm about three weeks ago, and said conditions were not sanitary.

Workers living at or near the Farm was for the convenience of the Company, as at any time during the night they may have to be called out for emergency duty, such as when cows give delivery to calves, or when cows get entangled in ropes or chains. It was no boon to the workers them-that evidence on this point be held in abeyance. "That is about all I have to say just now, and I only ask that the Tribunal will go out to Pokfulum and conduct enquiries themselves," said Mr. Woo Kau.

Professor Robertson said the Tribunal had already considered the advisability of going out 'to Pokfulum and see the accommodations for themselves. "I feel that enough has now been said at this hearing on the question of quarters, and if the workers wish to call evidence on this point, they may of course do so," said Professor Robertson. The Tribunal then adjourned to 2.30 p.m. today when it will hear statements from the Dairy Farm Company on list conditions of service.

The visitors had only themselves to blame for losing as their forwards lacked unity in attack. Pugsley, their centre-forward, had many chances to score but frittered them away by either poor shooting or waiting too long before parting with the ball and thus allowing tenacious Tennuci to rob him of the sphere.

Pick of the visiting team was Gwan Shien the insideright. He tried hard to pierce the Hong Kong defence but was poorly supported by his fellow forwards. Gwan was finally rewarded for his enterprising play when he pounced on a fumbled ball by Locker and scored in the 42nd minute of the second half.

Then B. Gosano broke through the Whites' defence to tally for the Blues. Before the changeover Gardner and Humpherles scored a goal each for the Whites. Particularly outstanding in the first half was the fine combination of the Whites' forward line. Gardner's fine turn of speed and his cross shots were a revelation. Rull was ever ready to snap up a pass and try for goal, . Bhaget Bingh was also impressive at left-half and soldom allowed the ball to get by file stick. His play in the second half was just as good if not initial half.
